

This weekend will be greater and i think everythings will be good. At first day of weekend i want just sit at home, clean it, i want help my mom to clean home, we want make a very delicious dinner and when i have done everything i will play computer games with my internet friends.

At second day i don't want work hard. After 13:00 o'clock i want to go with my friends in cafe, i think i call 2 or 3 of all my friends, i want just sit with them and talk about anythings, like about new computer game or their life.

And at the last day i will <sup>have</sup> shopping with my mother. We need some food and i want to buy some new clothing.
